Ni-Hao - Find out what not to miss in Taipei from travellers on Air Canada's first flight to Taiwan

May 01, 2017

Check out what our first customers who flew on our first daily, non-stop service between Vancouver (YVR) and Taipei (TPE) said they love most about Taipei at the inaugural celebration at our YVR trans-Pacific hub.

"Air Canada is very pleased to return to Taipei, an important and significant economic centre, as part of our ongoing global expansion," said Ben Smith, President, Passenger Airlines. "Our Taipei flights are operated with our state-of-the-art Boeing 787 Dreamliners featuring our industry-leading international services. The strategic addition of these daily year-round flights strengthens our YVR trans-Pacific hub which combined with our extensive North American network, provides convenient options and a competitive elapsed travel time between North America and Taiwan,China."
