Video: Take a look at Air Canada's new transcontinental signature class

Jul 01, 2018

Air Canada recently unveiled a new Signature Class on its transcontinental flights on wide-body aircraft, enhancing our service to passengers. The service is offered within Canada and on certain U.S. routes.

Brian Chow from Everyday Reviews takes us through what the Signature Class experience is all about with his video. From the pre-boarding service, the Maple Leaf Lounge, and the in-flight experience – not to mention the food – the video shows all the benefits of Air Canada's new service.
