Air Canada Jazz inaugurates the only non-stop service between Vancouver to Sacramento

VANCOUVER, June 15 /CNW Telbec/ - The departure today of Air Canada flight AC8404 marks the launch of the only daily, non-stop service between Vancouver and Sacramento. Air Canada Jazz now operates double daily flights to California's capital city with 50-seat, made-in-Canada Bombardier aircraft.

"Air Canada is the leading airline in the transborder market, offering more flights from Canada to more destinations in the U.S. than any other carrier," said Daniel Shurz, Vice-President, Network Planning. "We are strategically introducing new services, responding to travel opportunities between Sacramento, the capital city, and largest and fastest growing market in the state of California and Vancouver, a popular destination and major Air Canada hub for domestic and international flights."

Air Canada's newest transborder flights depart Vancouver at 13:55 and 19:50, arriving in Sacramento at 15:52 and 21:47. Flights from Sacramento depart at 07:40 and 16:30, arriving in Vancouver at 09:40 and 18:30. Flights have been timed for convenient connections to and from Air Canada's extensive network of domestic and trans-Pacific Asia flights at Vancouver.

Jazz operates a fleet of 135 aircraft, including 58 CRJ-100/200s.

Air Canada and Jazz have proudly served western Canada longer than any other carrier. From Vancouver, the carriers now offer 13 non-stop flights per day to four destinations in California, and a total of 1,155 scheduled flights per week to 41 destinations across Canada, the US, Europe, Asia and the South Pacific.
