Air Canada's new Ontario and Quebec passes offer unlimited flying this summer for only $999

MONTREAL, June 5 /CNW Telbec/ - Air Canada introduced two new flight passes today that allow unlimited flying in Ontario or Quebec during July and August for only $999.

"Air Canada is continuing to innovate with its industry-leading pass products, offering our Ontario and Quebec customers a unique opportunity to explore their respective provinces this summer. For a single, up-front payment of only $999, people buying either the Ontario Pass or Quebec Pass will get unlimited flying in July and August, Tango Plus benefits, including complimentary seat selection, 5,000 Aeroplan status miles, and the other advantages of our flight passes," said Charles McKee, Vice President of Marketing at Air Canada.

Available for sale between June 5 and 26, 2007, the Ontario Pass and Quebec Pass are valid for Air Canada and Air Canada Jazz flights between July 1 and August 31, 2007. The passes provide for unlimited travel, within their respective provinces, between 12 destinations in Ontario and nine in Quebec, with certain exceptions in each province. The Ontario Pass is not valid for point-to-point travel between Toronto and Ottawa (connections involving these two cities are permitted). The Quebec Pass does not permit travel to or from Iles de la Madeleine.

The Ontario Pass and the Quebec Pass are the latest addition to Air Canada's growing suite of multi-trip Flight Passes available at www.aircanada.com or for travel agents at www.aircanada.com/agents. Customers can learn more about how to select and use Flight Passes by taking a Virtual Flight Pass Tour at aircanada.com.

Air Canada is the only airline that offers its customers multi-trip Flight Passes which provide the convenience to self-manage travel online, either in the form of pre-purchased banks of flight credits or fixed monthly subscription rates that provide for unlimited flights.

Air Canada offers a wide range of Flight Passes including the 'North America Pass' with a choice of eight travel zones in Canada and between Canada and the US, the unlimited 'Flight Pass to Canada' in the U.S., the 'London Pass', the carrier's first pass for international travel, and the 'Oil Express Pass' designed specifically for oil patch workers in Northern Alberta travelling for work and leisure. Other Flight Passes offered for frequent travellers include the popular 'Rapidair Pass,' valid on the carrier's frequent shuttle services between Toronto-Montreal and Toronto-Ottawa, and the 'Western Commuter' pass for travel between key B.C. and Alberta cities. The airline also offers leisure passes for sun seekers, including 'Sun Pass East', 'Sun Pass West', and 'Hawaii Pass'.

Montreal-based Air Canada provides scheduled and charter air transportation for passengers and cargo to more than 170 destinations on five continents. Canada's flag carrier is the 14th largest commercial airline in the world and serves 34 million customers annually with a fleet consisting of 335 aircraft. Air Canada is a founding member of Star Alliance, providing the world's most comprehensive air transportation network.
